

The image is the front cover of the book "The Night Circus" by Erin Morgenstern. The background is black with white stars. At the top, there is a decorative title banner with a central crown-like element and the word "The" above "NIGHT CIRCUS". Below the banner is a stylized illustration of a hand holding a small, ornate circus tent. The tent is black and white with red accents, including a red floral wreath on top and red dots at the base. The hand holding it is white and visible on the right side.
